Castro's Sugar Costs Ivan Rusky 21 Times As Much As Joe Doakes

The Conference Board has just released some most interesting statistics. They are particularly intriguing at this particular time when Mr. Khrushchev is vilifying President Eisenhower. Many reasons have been ascribed as to why Mr. K. has launched his intemperate, uncalled-for, unreasonable, vitriolic attack on our Chief Executive. The best one advanced to date, in our opinion, is that Nikita is just a nasty fellow and that he's been caught with his nastiness showing.

Now, we'd like to make a guess. Could it be that Mr. K. is just plain jealous of Ike and America? It's now 47 years since the Reds took over in Russia. Almost half a century under Communist rule has produced little or no improvement in the living standard of the Russian counterparts of Joe Doakes over that which they enjoyed (?) under the Czars. Most certainly the Russian citizen of today has no more, probably has less, freedom than he had prior to the Russian Revolution of 1917.

What Mr. K. saw on his recent trip to the U. S. A., must have convinced him that his Communist Russia has a long, long way to travel before it catches up with Capitalist America. We repeat, our guess is that Mr. K. is just plain jealous.

And now for those Conference Board statistics mentioned in the opening opening paragraph. Those figures compared the work times required to buy seventeen selected consumer goods in New York City and Moscow. We pass on some of these:

To earn enough money to purchase 1 pound of Rib Roast Beef, a New Yorker has to work 21 minutes; his "comrade" in Moscow must toil 1 hour and 22 minutes, just 4 times as long. For a quart of milk Ivan has to work 4 times as long as Sam, 31 minutes compared with 8 minutes. For a pound of butter, it takes a Muscovite 4 times as long as a New Yorker, 3 hours and 4 minutes compared with 21 minutes.

When it comes to shodding himself the Russian has to work 8 and one-half as long to purchase a pair of men's leather oxford shoes, 61 hours compared with 7 hours. It's even worse in the case of women's leather oxfords—he works 11 times as long, 57 one-half hours versus 5 hours and 10 minutes.

Cleanliness is generally rated next in line to godliness. Nikita and his henchmen deny God to the Russian people, but apparently let them keep themselves physically clean—at a price. To obtain a cake of toilet soap, requires 10 one-half times as much work in Moscow as in New York, 32 minutes as opposed to 3 minutes.

To purchase a rayon street dress for Mrs. Ivan, a Russian worker puts in 16 times as much working time as does the American. 73 one-half hours compared with 4 hours and 36 minutes. He is much more fortunate when it comes to buying a wool suit for himself—it only takes him 11 times as long, 275 hours in Moscow versus 23 hours in New York.

But sugar is the sourest commodity that the Russian buys, that is "sourest" as to comparative price he pays toll for a pound of it 141 times as much, 1 hour and 4 minutes against 3 minutes toll by an American worker.

The Conference Board has this to say about shirts: "If the Russian worker gives a friend the shirt off his back it is, indeed a generous gesture, for a cotton shirt represents almost two eight hour days of his labor. By contrast, the American worker earns enough in less than an hour to purchase a cotton shirt."

About the commodity that Nikita imbibes with such reckless abandon, The Conference Board makes this comment: "Even the solace offered by vodka is harder to attain in Moscow than in New York. The Muscovite spends 6 hours and 19 minutes on the job to earn the price of the liquor; the New Yorker 1 hour and 22 minutes."

At the risk of redundancy, we say again: It just could be that inspiring Mr. K.'s raving and ranting against Mr. E. and the U. S. A., is that green-eyed monster, Mr. Jealousy. At any rate, we can thank our lucky stars that we live in Capitalist America instead of in Communist Russia.

The college boy, enamored of a beautiful coed, sent her a birthday present, enclosing this note: "With all my love, plus my monthly allowance and all I could borrow from my roommate."

Overheard in the bus: "You know, I wouldn't say anything about her unless it's good and... oh boy, this is good!"

An elderly golfer was slowly struggling his way around the course. Seeing the contemptuous look on his caddy's face, he apologized: "I'm not playing my usual game today."

"No?" said the caddy. "And what would that game be, sir?"

F. C. D. Completes $900,000 Canal

A new canal and two gated spillways which have cost almost $900,000 have now been placed formally in operation in Glades County. It was announced today by G. E. Dail, Jr., Executive Director of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District.

This latest flood control and water conservation project is the F. C. D. Canal No. 40, Section 1, located in that part of Indian Prairie Canal which empties into the northward side of Lake Okeechobee. Work was begun on this canal in November, 1958.

Work on Section No. 2 of Canal 40, as well as Canal 39-A, which continues the project across Glades County and into Highlands County at an additional cost of some $352,000, is progressing rapidly.

These new F. C. D. works are part of the overall water control program scheduled between Lake Okeechobee, southeast of Sebring, and Lake Okeechobee.

Screwworms Gone From Florida!

Florida is celebrating its first year free of freedom from the dread screwworm in over a quarter of a century.

Records of the State-Federal cooperative screwworm eradication program shows that the last positive case was recorded in the state was June 17, 1959. At the height of the season in 1957, the costly livestock losses were running at the rate of from 30,000 to 40,000 a month at a cost to the livestock industry of $10-million.

Your Library

Be sure of this: no matter how good your public library is at this moment, it isn't good enough. There is something you can do to make it better.

Relax and read a good book. Selected for your reading pleasure this week by Mrs. C. S. Adams, of the library branch at Station Wagon in Spain: by Francis Parkinson Keys. It is a gay, romantic, and humorous novel of a serious young man, unrepentant to feminine wiles and hampered by slender means, who inherits a fortune, who is suddenly and surprisingly transformed into a daring rover, an amateur detective and an impetuous sailor. One surprising event follows another, and suspense continues to mount.

Trustee from the Toolroom by Nevill Shute, author of On the Beach. This is a warm and very human story of a mild little man whose life is uneventful, until he becomes the trustee of his ten year old niece, when his sister and brother-in-law go away with their sailing ship somewhere off Tahiti, carrying 27,000 lbs. in diamonds. It is a fine story, warm, witty and very human, the goodness, the charity, the best capabilities of man.

A Disturbing Woman by Paul Hogan, author has written a major American novel in this book. In spirit this magnificent novel of American life is romantic in substance, historical, and in scale heroic. "The war and the West are its two background themes."

Uncle Dan From Democrat River

Dear Mister Editor:

We had a visitor for our session at the country store Saturday night and it was a mighty fine meeting. I call this fellow a visitor on account of him not getting there but about once every five or more. He enjoys what you might call a beef-steak marriage, him being stewed half the time and his lady beefing the rest of the time. On account of this situation at home, he don't get to attend our sessions regular. He was a little stewed Saturday night but I reckon he decided to come anyhow.

I don't remember what year it was when he last attended, but I recollect it was when we had that Office of Price Stabilization in Washington and they were having price control all over the country. He came in that night saying he was mighty happy they had just lifted price control on rattlesnake meat, said he was adjusting his budget to take care of it.

You probably remember them good old days, Mister Editor. The papers at that time reported they were having price control in the Office of Price Stabilization and a Government employee at every desk. I recollect it was mighty worried that night when we heard about the fellow at the rattlesnake meat stand.

But I reckon they let him move his chair over and help the fellow at the rattlesnake meat stand. There was the good old days when we was practicing nation's economy and didn't have but one Government employee to a desk.

Anyhow, this fellow brings us the new Saturday night that he'd just heard on the radio where some Committee in the Congress aimed to make another investigation of baseball this summer. Clem Webster said it was his own knowledge that the fellow about baseball but he'd bet it was the lawyer 'em, always wanting to examine the technical angles while getting pay for same.

Zeke Grubb, who is our best authority on this subject, allowed as how it would be awful to get baseball to the place where a Congressional committee could call a umpire to Washington to ask him how's come he called Casey safe at home in the second game of that double header last Sunday.

After discussing it pro and con all of us, including the fellow with the beef-steak marriage, voted unanimous again it. The meeting closed with a unanimous agreement from Ed Doolittle that he was retiring after the November elections, when all them benefits the candidates is promising starts coming in. He said he didn't aim to do nothing the first year of his retirement and a little less ever year thereafter.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

THANK YOU

My wife and I express our sincere thanks to our many friends who were so thoughtful during my hospitalization. The flowers, gifts, cards and visits were very much appreciated. We appreciated very much the fine care given me by the doctor and nurses at Belle Glade Hospital.

St. Philip's Bible School Enrolls 60

St. Philip's Catholic Church conducted a Bible school this year for the first time which was open to children wishing to attend regardless of denomination. Sixty children registered for the two weeks school and the same number was in attendance daily.

On the teaching staff were Mrs. Vernon Decker, superintendent, Mrs. Guy Wilson and Mrs. Charles Dushoff, who prepared for the school by taking a course in West Palm Beach. Assisting were Mrs. August Kirchman and Mrs. Carl Lockmiller.

The children had an hour of instruction on catechism, recreation and handicrafts. There were children also from Falmouth and South Bay. The school proved to be popular and plans are to have one annually.

Reimbursements were served daily. On completion of the school everyone enjoyed a party at Boynton Beach. Accompanying the children were Father Xavier Morris, Mrs. W. F. Fisher and Mrs. Charles Dushoff.

Churches Of Christ Scientist

Self-examination and purification of thought are essential to spiritual progress. This is a theme to be dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon is the Golden Text from Psalms (139:23): "Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts: and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting."

Citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include (6:2830): "We should examine ourselves and learn what is the affection and purpose of the heart, for in this way only can we learn what we honestly are."

Scriptural selections will include the following verse: "Create in us a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me" (Psalms 51:10).

TODAY'S Meditation

Read John 13:1-10

He (Jesus) poureth water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded. (John 13:5)

In the upper room that night, the Master might have asked John, Peter, Andrew, or another of His followers to perform the menial act of washing feet. He might have told a man servant or a maid-servant to come in and do it. He might have simply omitted this much-needed service. But Jesus became the servant. He girded himself with a towel and washed the disciples' feet.

A master cannot be served until he has demonstrated his own ability to serve. So Jesus humbled Himself to serve us. He who holds the universe in His hand kneels down before us and washes our tired, dusty feet.

So the Son of God took a towel, not simply to cleanse the feet of His friends, or only to set an example for them to follow. He did it to show unmistakably that he who is sent is not greater than he who sends. God is like that.

PRAYER—O Thou Creator, who dost attend us continually by serving us, help us to be that with the eyes of faith as we witness the glory of Thy service for us. Why dost Thou repeatedly sacrifice Thyself for us? We have the answer in Thy great love. Help us to be grateful, even if we cannot be worthy.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Jesus humbled Himself to liberate us.

Juicy Persian Limes

Are Here Until Fall

Limes are back. Big green cool, juicy Persian limes are here until fall.

Limes for tall chilled drinks, limes for tart refreshing desserts, limes for mazes and dressings, limes for decorative touches and that extra little bit of zing - the versatile lime is here to pick up warm weather menus.

The Persian lime is a large handsome fruit, as decorative as it is useful and versatile. It is oval or elliptical in shape and a beautiful dark green when ready to use. Shoppers should look for clean fruit, heavy for its size and rather smoothskinned at the blossom end.

The Persian lime keeps well in home conditions and clean dry fruit in the vegetable bin of the refrigerator should keep 2 to 3 weeks. But even though limes are not highly perishable, they should be handled carefully for bruises encourages rot and decay.

Virtually all limes grown commercially in the United States come from Florida and the big crop of the Sunshine State is the Persian. The Key Lime, a very tart fruit originally introduced from Mexico, was once the important species but after Florida's lime plantations suffered heavy hurricane damage in the early 30's growers replanted with the larger, seedless, and more desirable Persian. Limes are shipped in quantity from Florida during June, July, August, September, and into October and are marketed throughout the United States.

Of all the countries visited on my recent South American Tour as a member of the Pan American Commission group, I think Brazil stands out as the most impressive.

Our first stop in this amazing country was Sao Paulo, fast-growing city in South America. Although I had heard and read a great deal about it, I was still unprepared for what I found. It was breath taking, unbelievable, I might say astounding.

Although different in character other than a comparison with my first view of New York's magnificent skyline as witnessed when I approached it from a ship entering the harbor.

From atop our splendid downtown hotel you could look in any direction and see numerous skyscrapers under construction. Everywhere the old was making way for the new. Magnificent buildings of most modern architectural design reached skyward on every hand. Population is increasing steadily, business is booming and the signal light of progress is green. Sao Paulo is going places and in a hurry. Citizens are fiercely proud of their community. They believe in it up to the hilt and there is no time for "leistas" or delay until "manana."

Like all rapidly growing cities, Sao Paulo faces a constant struggle to maintain adequate facilities and funds with which to finance them. The traffic problem is acute, and while new highways are under construction, as well as new schools and other public service installations, the city continues to outgrow its facilities faster than they can be provided.

In outlying areas huge industrial plants occupy hundreds of acres, most of them beautifully designed and landscaped, giving employment to thousands in the manufacture of automobiles, trucks, tires, pharmaceuticals and countless other products. With the standard of living rising in all South American countries, the demand for these products is steady and mounting. While business and industry hold the spotlight in Sao Paulo the Latin love of the artistic and beautiful is evident in its splendid parks and recreation areas, the striking beauty of its tropical architecture, its fountains and statues.

With a population of over four million Sao Paulo has already become the older sister of Rio de Janeiro, and is crowding Buenos Aires for first place on the South American scene.

Rio likes Buenos Aires reminds me of an old world city. It still retains the beauty and respect for the world of the older cities of Europe. Like an older sister who has looked in the limelight only to see a younger offspring take the spotlight, Rio remains serene, retaining her beauty and culture with a distinct personality that none can take away from her. While the establishment of the fantastic new capital at Brasilia robs her of another title, and reduces her population by about 70,000 she seems still unimpaired, for she knows there is only one Rio de Janeiro, loved and respected throughout the world.

An enjoyable experience while in Rio was a visit with an old friend, Fred Strouzer, Florida newspaperman with whom I worked years ago when he was on the staff of St. Petersburg and Tampa papers. Today he is chief of the South American Bureau of the Associated Press, a top flight newspaperman, credited by his state, his country and his profession. When I first met him he was on the staff of the Tarpon Springs Leader. He has gone a long way since then and no one is prouder of him than I am, unless it is Mrs. Jay Hennig, publisher of the Leader who loves him as though he were a son, and glories in his outstanding achievement. Florida and the nation owe Fred a debt of gratitude for his efforts to create a better understanding and relationship between the Americas.

Crash Boat Does

That At Clewiston

CLEWISTON — An 80-foot crash boat, being returned north by Ralph McNeill of New Jersey, crashed into Johnson Fishing Docks here Tuesday afternoon, sinking four guide boats and inflicting damages estimated at least $400, according to the operator. A guide, working in one of the boats, narrowly escaped serious injury as the craft plowed through the loading docks.

The accident came on the heels of an accident and drowning free three-day holiday weekend at Clewiston. Assisting him in patrol of the accident-prone stretch of U. S. 27 and SR 80, over the holiday weekend, were Troopers Carl Williams, Dave Tomlinson and Charlie Humphries. Aiding the state patrolmen were members of the Florida Highway Patrol Auxiliary of the American Legion.

RALEIGH NEVER VISITED THE U.S.A.

Popular stories would leave you believing that Sir Walter Raleigh who had much to do with the early history of Virginia lived there himself. But the truth is that he never set foot on North America in his whole life, even though he spent many expeditions to Virginia from 1584 to 1590. Later in his life he visited South America, but he died without ever seeing the North America where he wanted to build up and perhaps to live.

Poorest Students Drive Own Cars

Twice Accident Rate As Adults!

Parents who do not wisely regulate their teenager's use of the car are endangering his high school grades, his future and maybe his life.

This was the main finding of a comprehensive study undertaken to determine the automobile's influence on teenage behavior. Conducted by the Allstate Insurance Companies in cooperation with 30 selected high school throughout the United States and Canada, the study threw a searchlight on the academic, driving and social habits of 20,000 junior and senior youngsters.

"The study leaves no doubt that it isn't the car but the control of its use that is important," Richard A. Parker, Florida regional manager of Allstate, declared. "Parents simply must realize the urgency of exercising more authority over their teenagers in the matter of how and when they drive."

Underlining the accident problem among youthful drivers, Allstate says their involvement rate is about twice as high as the average adult, and the average severity of their accidents is also considerably higher.

Furthermore, most of the youngsters — not just a few — are involved in accidents.

The study points out that a parent of car usage has a direct relationship to academic standing. Driving a car does not in itself have an adverse effect on grades, but when the use of the car is permitted to infringe on school work, serious problems develop.

The poorest students are those who drive their own cars, according to the Allstate study.

Medical Care Offered Oldsters By Smathers

Senator Smathers says, "Our senior citizens are proud people; they do not ask for charity; what they want is an assurance of adequate medical care when they need it—at costs they can afford."

"Under my bill private insurance companies would perform all administrative functions. These functions could be carried out without setting up costly sprawling bureaucratic agencies—pass it the rough several federal agencies—tax money would melt like ice cubes as it was handed from bureau to bureau. The Senator's bill would provide:

Voluntary medical care for persons over 65, based on non-profit health insurance policies issued by private companies.

For up to 60 days hospital care and 120 days of nursing home care yearly and cost of all in excess of $50 yearly.

Maximum premium of $6 per month is anticipated.

The Senator says: "We in Congress will find a way to provide care for the oldsters—and do it before the session is over."

Mr. Fidel— How Terribly Your Friends Talk!

"War to the hills between communist and capitalism is inevitable. Today, of course, we are not strong enough to attack. Our time will come in 20 or 30 years. To win we shall need the element of surprise. The bourgeoisie will have to be put to sleep. So we shall begin by launching the most spectacular peace movement on record. There will be electrifying overtures and unheard of concessions. The capitalist countries, stupid and decadent will rejoice to accept them in their own destruction. They will leap at another chance to be friends. As soon as their guard is down, we shall smash them with our clenched fist."

(From a speech made in 1931 by Dimitry Z. Manulsky before the Lenin School of Political Warfare. Mr. Manulsky was president of the U. S. Security Council in 1949.

For the past 22 years U. S. Society talk have resulted in 52 agreements; 40 were violated by the Soviet!

Flies And Mosquitoes Notwithstanding, Tennis Attracts You Can't Get Along Without Insects

One of the popular myths about nature is that mankind and insects are engaged in a war of survival to determine which shall inherit the earth, and that unless man can produce a constant supply of new and more deadly chemical traps and swatters—he is doomed! The next age on earth, so goes this theory, will be the "Age of Insects."

The science of ecology—the study of the relationships of plants and animals to each other and to their environment—has completely exploded the man vs. insects theory, according to the National Audubon Society. Insects are an essential part of nature's "web of life."

Without the six-legged insects and related small fry of the animal kingdom, many farm and orchard crops could not be grown. Most birds and many kinds of fish would disappear. Some would starve for lack of raw materials produced only by insects. These include the silkworm and its by-products, the silk industry, and others.

107,131 Pleasure Boats
14,785 Others

The State Board of Conservation closed its books on licenses for the past fiscal year today and notice that new ones are now required. For the year past, Director Ernest Mitts gave the following figures: commercial boat licenses, 14,785; wholesale seafood dealers licenses, 658; retail seafood dealers, 4,232.

The Conservation Department has been sending application forms to all license holders for renewal. The cost of a commercial boat license starts at $1.30 and goes up according to size. A resident wholesale dealer license costs $50, a retail license $10. Applications can be handled through any conservation agent or by applying directly to the department in Tallahassee.

Mitts noted that during the year pleasure boats have been registered by county tax collectors, under Conservation Department supervision, 107,131 boats have been numbered. Under a 1959 state legislature law, most boats powered by over 10 horse power must be registered, but the registration is good for two years.

Florida leads all states in commercial production of watermelons, one of the gourd family.

Girl Scouts in the Palm-Glades Girl Scout Council, including Palm Beach and Glades counties and parts of Martin and Hendry, have the opportunity to attend sessions at this beautiful camp site on the Loxahatchee River, near Jupiter. Beginning on June 28 and continuing thru August 20, the four two weeks sessions gives 288 girls a chance to attend and participate.

Among those attending the first session from Belle Glade is a younger group, Wilma Kirchman, Kathryn Smith, Deborah Wedgworth, Kit Weeks, and Tanya Croft and Linda Lane of Pahokee. ## What Is A Boy?

After a male baby has grown out of long clothes and triangles and has acquired pants, freckles and so much dirt that relatives do not dare to kiss it between meals, it becomes a boy. A boy is nature's answer to that false belief that there is no such thing as perpetual motion. A boy can run like a deer, swim like a fish, climb like a squirrel, balk like a mule, bellow like a bull, eat like a pig, or act like a jackass, according to climatic conditions. The world is so full of boys that it is impossible to touch off a firecracker, strike up a band, or pitch a ball game without collecting about a thousand of them. Boys are not ornamental; they are useful.

If it were not for boys, the newspapers would go undelivered, and a thousand picture shows would go bankrupt. Boys are useful in running errands. A boy can easily do the family errands with the aid of five or six adults. The rest with which a boy does an errand is equalled only by the speed of a turtle on a July day.

The boy is a natural spectator. He watches parades, fires, fights, ball games, automobiles, boats and airplanes with equal fervor. He will not watch the clock. The man who invents a clock that will stand on its head and sing a song when it strikes will win the undying gratitude of millions of families whose boys are forever coming home to dinner about supper time. A boy is a piece of skin stretched over an appetite. He eats only when awake. Boys faithfully imitate their dads in spite of all efforts to teach them good manners. Boys are not popular except with their own parents, but they do have many fine qualities. You can absolutely rely on a boy, if you know what to rely on. Boys are very durable. A boy, if not washed too often, and if kept in a cool quiet place after each accident, will survive broken bones, hornets, swimming holes, fights and nine helpings of pie. Boys love to trade things. He will trade frogs, fish hooks, marbles, broken knives and snakes for anything that is priceless or worthless. When he grows up he will trade puppy loves, energy, warts, bashfulness and a cast iron stomach for a boy window, pride, ambition, pretense and a bald head and will immediately begin to say that boys are not what they were in the good old days.

Florida's Development Commission has just received a survey of Florida by the Arthur D. Little, Inc., organization of Cambridge, Mass., and it points up some most interesting facts and suggests some questions involving all of us, since we are inside one segment described as the area of greatest population growth — southeast.
We are also between the two areas that will see the greatest growth, according to this report
— the Miami-southeast and the Sarasota areas. We will most likely get a spill-over from both directions.
Agriculture is not outstanding in these predictions, but of the predicted growth of 2,784, 800 for the state, some 2,200,000 will come in a zone of three hours truck drive from us —
Orlando, Tampa, Canaveral, Sarasota and Miami. Jacksonville and Gainesville areas will add another 350,000.
These new folks surely will eat green vegetables, sweeten their coffee, eat beef, drink milk and want nice grass lawns at their homes.
"Agricultural diversification" the report says "has an important bearing on maintaining the soundness of this sector of the economy."
As to educational facilities,
"Expenditure by Florida's State government for higher education is still well below the national average, for $7, $9.81 against averages of 11.50 for the U. S. and $19.16 for California.
We don't have to go out and look for growth; we must keep up with it — at least stay out of it's way.
